

This year's theme is "Celebrating Community".

How will that come alive through our yarn play? You'll just have to follow along on our social media spaces to find out! Each Friday, now through April 27th, we'll be highlighting two of this year's participating shops here and on social media. (We chose the shop pairings randomly so as not to favor any particular region or section of the alphabet.)

What's so new about that? Well, in the spirit of our theme of Celebrating Community, each shop has designed an afghan block for you to create in the months leading up to the tour kick off! Many of the patterns include ideas for the shop's favorite charities to donate a finished afghan if you wanted to gift to your finished project into your community. The pattern's will only be available on the tour website until the end of the tour.
